Cora L. Jackson is a gifted teacher, psalmist, musician, soloist and director. For more than twenty five years, Cora's career has been music ministry. She has toured with several choirs as music director and vocalist, making numerous appearances on television, radio and performing live with many Gospel greats.

Cora has written more than 150 songs, and is the author of three full length musicals. Much of her work is available in sheet music, CD or video formats.

Her Gospel Music Workshops excite, inspire and challenge you to extend your reach in both music and your faith relationship. Her songs can help to transform your church into a singing, praising congregation - not just on Sunday, but all week long, too!

Christina Shinkle has accompanied Cora since 1996. She does the piano scores and music desktop publishing for Cora's original music. She also plays keyboards for S.T.A.N.D. Productions, Temperance, and all of Cora's workshops.

Christina received her jazz piano training from the Interlochen Arts Academy and the University of Miami, graduating with honors. She enjoys acting and teaching piano, and is the mother of one young son.
